

Got your PJs ready?

Whether it’s PJs on Monday, Tie Dye on Tuesday, or Red on Wednesday, there are plenty of ways to join Lake Shore’s observance of Red Ribbon Week Oct. 24-31 (see flier at right!). Between 2:30-4 pm, Wednesday, Oct. 26, students from at least four LSCSD clubs will venture out to Route 5 between Town Hall and the Middle School “to make our anti-drug message heard,” says Middle School teacher Valerie Smith. The students – from the CS&V, Leaders in Training, SADD and HOOP clubs – will wear red and carry signs with a drug free message. All sports and clubs, local police and fire departments, the Mayor of Angola, and the Board of Education and school administration also have been invited. “The kids thought that the more people that stand to deliver the message with us, the more likely it will be heard,” says Mrs. Smith.

In other matters:

Jeff Barnes, Director of Technology, provided a Technology Update, including the roll out of Chromebooks for all students grades 3-5. The Chromebooks are housed in charging carts in homerooms. At the High School, several labs were updated, including a new eSports lab with 25 computers. He also noted that the department partners with the Academy of Business & Finance, providing internship opportunities for students to experience the work environment.

School Board Recognition Week:

Superintendent Dan Pacos noted that this is School Board Recognition Week, sponsored by the NYS School Boards Association. “Recognizing school board member service should be a year-round endeavor, but designating one week to highlight these volunteers’ efforts ensures public recognition of the thanks they deserve,” he said. “School board members have a crucial role within a school district, and we take this opportunity to thank our Board members for their service to Lake Shore.”

Recognized and thanked were:

- Jennifer Michalec, 17 years;
- Kristen Bauer, 1 Year;
- Kathleen Chiavetta, 8 years;
- William Connors, Jr., 10 years
- Arlene DeJoy-Meckes, 1 1/2 Years;
- Dennis Feldmann, 1 year (this year) plus two previous 3-year terms (2007-2010 and 2010-2013), for a total of 7 years;
- Michael Franey, 6 years,
- and
- Emma Coventry, Student Representative to the Board of Education for the 2022-23 school year.

From Technology Director Jeff Barnes:

Each year, the NYS State Education Department requires us to survey parents and students on the availability of technology while away from school locations. The information can be used by both Lake Shore and New York State to pursue funding opportunities to address technology shortfalls. This survey is ONLY for students or parents who reside in the District to fill out. Please encourage your students to fill out the survey, which can be found HERE.

Showing a little love to the Family Support Center

Catch a hockey game AND help support the Lake Shore Family Support Center by purchasing tickets for the 12/13 Sabres v Los Angeles Kings show-down at Key Bank Arena.

6th graders have a selfie moment with best-selling author Jason Reynolds

6th graders had a brief selfie moment with #1 New York Times bestselling author Jason Reynolds during a livestream event with the 2020-2022 National Ambassador for Young People's Literature. Mr. Reynolds wrote the "Track" series, whose first book - Ghost - directly ties to the 6th grade ELA curriculum. The event, held in the newly-remodeled Middle School auditorium, was organized by school librarian Mrs. Waterman, with support from 6th grade ELA teachers Mrs. Conrad and Mrs. Evans. The experience was a hit with students, she says, who would like to participate in similar events in the future.

Technology meets recycling in this Global Maker Day project!

Life Skills students used the computer design program Bunclee to create a sketch of a fruit or vegetable person, reports Teaching Assistant Sara Reed. "Then we used recycled materials from around the room to bring the creations to life," she says, noting that the project was all in collaboration with Technology Integrator Michael Drezek for Global Maker Day.
