

Bonjour mes amis!

I know things are strange, uncomfortable, and inconvenient right now. School may be the last thing on your mind, including French. For the foreseeable future (until we return to school), I would like you all to keep up on your French vocabulary and grammar through Quizlet and conjugemos just 15-20 minutes a day. Play games, do practice tests, etc. Remember, French is a skill like sports and music—you lose it if you don't use it!

What you can do to keep your French brain active:

- Text, facetime, snap your classmates in French!
- Find French TikTokers or YouTubers and watch their videos in French! (some even teach and review grammar!)
- Watch a French movie on Netflix!
- Watch Disney plus in French!
- Look up French memes!

The most important thing to do during this time is to stay safe, healthy, and hopeful! Please take care of yourselves and make good choices, but also take control of your learning! Remember, when we do return to school, we must keep moving forward. You can make the transition back smooth and still crush those exams. Or you will feel anxious and unprepared 😞 Don't put yourself in that position! Unfortunately, this is not a fun break from learning like spring break. This is a solution to a serious issue that made normal life a little different. Just keep up on your learning!

Create a healthy daily routine!

- Réveillez-vous avant dix heures.
- Prenez le petit-déjeuner
- Amusez-vous et reposez-vous un peu!
- Faites les devoirs et étudiez pour les cours!

If you have access to the internet please connect with Google Classroom. Links are on the back of this page. I will post Quizlet sets and conjugemos practice on Google Classroom.

I hope to see you all very soon: healthy, happy, and eager to parler français!
Bonne journée, bonne semaine, bon week-end!

A plus tard,
Mademoiselle K
