Like you, we are missing the excitement of activity in the building. We look forward to when we will have that again. In the meantime, please encourage our students to engage with their teachers and to do their best. We all understand that this is new and challenging and we are here to support you.

Above all, take breaks when you need to. In the big picture the safety of our families is the priority. We hope to see everyone soon and remember to keep washing your hands!!
