Andrea Herold, DC, Class of 2002

Andrea Herold, DC, is currently a resident and business owner in Angola. She is a proud alumnus of Lake Shore, graduating in 2002. Upon graduation, Andrea attended St. John Fisher College to study business management and human resources. She finished her studies, graduating Summa Cum Laude in 2005.

Andrea began working different positions within the local business community. It was during her time working for Kaleida Health that Andrea discovered her true passion for helping people. It was in 2007 that she decided to return to school to pursue her degree in Chiropractic.

After completing pre-requisite courses at Erie Community College, Andrea enrolled at D'Youville College. It was at D'Youville where she gained invaluable experience working hands on with some of the best practitioners in the area. Andrea was able to work in clinics at ECMC, Good Neighbors, and the D'Youville Health Center treating patients from all over Western New York. While studying at D'Youville Andrea knew that she wanted to open her own practice, and was confident that her home town would be the right place.

Andrea graduated from D'Youville with her Doctorate in Chiropractic in May of 2012. The following October, Andrea opened her own practice right in Angola. Hands on Health Chiropractic currently serves the residents of Angola and surrounding areas. Dr. Herold was pleased to expand her practice and add a second location in Cassadaga, NY in November 2014.

In addition to gaining hands on experience that would prepare her for clinical practice, Andrea was able to develop her research skills while studying at D'Youville. Her graduate research was accepted by the Association of Chiropractic Colleges to be presented at their annual Research Agenda Conference (ACCRAC) in Orlando Florida in 2014.

Dr. Herold is still actively involved with D'Youville and their chiropractic department. She was pleased to help promote the program by filming an informative video done at her practice.

While daily practice is Dr. Herold's focus, she also teaches medical terminology and anatomy and physiology at Bryant & Stratton College. Her future goals include teaching within the Chiropractic department at D'Youville College.
